

Meghalaya: EKH Police initiative's, 'Visiting my Police Station' gathers positive response

By TNT(the northeast today) News on June 19, 2015 Comments Off on Meghalaya: EKH Police initiative's, 'Visiting my Police Station' gathers positive response

SHILLONG: A constructive initiative undertaken by the East Khasi Hills district police has received much appreciation and gathered positive responses from the people especially the school children.

The initiative, 'Visiting my Police Station' became a huge hit among the school children as witnessed from the ever increasing number of young people visiting the nearby police station.

It may be reminded that the programme, 'Visiting my Police Station' was launched by the district police on May 12 this year as part of 'Safe-Secure-Shillong' Project. In this regard, invitations were sent out to different Schools in Shillong.

According to the district police chief M Kharkrang, till date as many as 20 Schools have responded to the invitation and about 900 School Children have visited Sadar Police Station just within a month that the programme was launched.

Kharkrang also stated that the invitation is still open at all times to all Schools. "They can inform us through our email sp.ekh-meg@gov.in mentioning the date and time they intend to visit," Kharkrang said.

The aim of the project is to bring about a public friendly approach by Police especially to children and also bring a positive mindset in the minds of the young children towards Police.

"The programme aims to remove the fear in the mindset of the youths and to inculcate in them that Police Station does not only deal with criminals only but is also a service delivery centre," said the police chief.
